The Eternal Masculine.
 DOLLY was not quite six when her mother bought her a flock of nine Plymouth Rocks hens and a rooster, and diligently explained to Dolly that the rooster was the "papa hen" and the rest were all "mama hens." After two or three days of confinement, to accustom them to their coop, they were let out to wander about the yard, and Dolly was set to watch them. The hens stayed together nicely, but the rooster showed a tendency to wander into the next-door neighbor's chicken-yard.
 Dolly chased him back time and again, until she was tired and out of patience. She turned her back for a minute, and when she looked around there were the hens up by the coop, while the rooster was sedately passing across the garden toward the next yard.

Dolly stamped her foot on the sidewalk and screamed, "Come back here! Come back to your own family!" The rooster proceeded with perfect equanimity. Dolly watched him for a moment with a look of utter disgust. Then her mother heard her say very emphatically, in an undertone:
 "That's just like you men, anyway!"

DEPUTY MARSHAL TO BE STATIONED AT GALLUP

 Indians in Western Town Causes the United States Authorities to Get Busy.

Assistant United States Attorney E.
 C. Wade, Jr., arrived in Albuquerque last night on his way to Santa Fe from Gallup, where he went to appear before the United States commissioner against two men held for alleged illegal selling of intoxicants to Indians. Mr. Wade had both men, one of whom is a prominent business man of Gallup, bound over to the federal grand jury.

The last United States grand jury recommended the stationing of a deputy United States marshal at Gallup as the quickest means of breaking up the liquor traffic with the Indians, which appears to have been in a flourishing condition for some time. Mr. Wade said last night that the action recommended by the grand jury probably would be necessary before the traffic could be stopped effectively.

How You May Throw Away Your Glasses

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunate, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optons; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Optons tablet.
 With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two or four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eyestrain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or wear glasses, would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches, and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition; so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.

A Realist.
 President Wilson likes novels of an idealistic rather than a realistic trend.

At a reception in Washington a lady mentioned a realist who had just produced a shockingly depressing and unpleasant book.

"How would you define a realist?" someone asked, and the lady said:

"A realist is a writer who is disgusted with the world."

"Oh, no, not at all," smiled the president. "A realist is a writer with whom the world is disgusted."

A Good Maxim.
 William Dean Howells, apropos of the tercentenary of the birth of La Rochefoucauld, quoted at a dinner in Boston some of the famous Frenchman's maxims.

"La Rochefoucauld," said Mr.
 Howells, "wasn't the sorrowful mis-anthrope some people think, but a gay and gallant figure. His character was best portrayed, indeed, by one of his best maxims:

"He who is without folly is not so wise as he thinks."

SPLENDID TRIBUTE TO LEON RICE BY PRESS

Tenor Soloist of International Fame Who Sings at Methodist Church Sunday Highly Praised.

According to advance notices and extracts from over 5,000 articles appearing in leading newspapers of Europe, Canada and the United States, Leon Rice is a tenor soloist of international fame. He is booked for an "Evening of Song" at the First Methodist church, Albuquerque on next Sunday night.

Mr. Rice, whose solo work at Trinity chapel New York, for three years attracted widespread attention, is giving a series of recitals in the large cities. A few open dates are given to smaller places. This city was fortunate in securing this talented artist who will render his entire program, permitting music lovers here full opportunity to observe his wonderful capacity.

Ex-Governor Bob Taylor of Tennessee, said: "Leon Rice is one of the sweetest singers I have ever heard." In his voice there are fiddles and flutes and warbling birds tangled with smiles and tears. I listened and dreamed of heaven. I floated upon the silvery tide of his songs until I forgot I was on earth."

His appearance here is a rare opportunity for those who love good music.

En route from California to New York, Albuquerque by special arrangement is privileged to hear this great artist. No regular admission fee is charged here, although he usually has capacity audiences at a dollar and upwards a seat. Instead, however, Rev. C. O. Beckman, the pastor, proposes to take an appreciation silver offering.

The papers of Phoenix, Tucson and El Paso report capacity audiences this week and many turned away.

 said Mr. McWade, "but I confess that it grieves me to pay $5 in New York for an omnibus, a shop, an ice and a peach—for that was my last New York luncheon."

"A New York doctor told me the other day that a hotel man once asked him how many feet of gas the average gas suicide inhaled.

"I don't know," said the doctor.

"Some hundreds, I suppose. But why do you ask that?"

"There was a gas suicide at my hotel last night," was the reply, "and I want to charge up his gas to his executors."
